USED GUN WITH DEADLY EFFECT

Frank Albright Kills John Austin.

Both Slayer and Slain Colored—The Shooting Occurred At Guilford Station During Negro Function Which Occurred At Home of Henry Williams—Williams Arrested on Charge of Retailing.

Late Saturday night at the home of Henry Williams, colored, who lives near Guilford station, Frank Albright shot and killed John Austin.

They were attending a "festible," which Williams was giving in "honor" of some friends, and while a brother of Albright was paying some very marked attention to Williams' daughter, Austin came in and with much show of disrespect demanded an audience with Albright. Boisterous and loud grew the quarrel until the climax ended with a call to arms when some nameless appellation was applied to Albright, with the result as stated.

Dr. Fox was summoned to the scene, and he phoned for Sheriff Jones, who in turn instructed Deputy Crutchfield to speed to Guilford in his automobile and make an investigation. Officer Crutchfield found little but the leavin's, including a few tracks of immeasurable and shapeless dimensions. Albright went toward Jamestown, but as yet no one has been able to locate him.

Sheriff Jones went on his buggy, reaching the place as soon after notification as possible.

Albright fired two shots and Austin ran into the yard, when a third shot followed him. He fell about 50 yards from the house.

The sheriff learned that the same old enemies to law and order had played their usual part at the "festible;" namely liquor and pistols. There was also found the favorite weapon of the lawless negro—the razor, but no time was given for it to be used. There was found a large glass jar containing about a gallon of liquid brimstone, lye, and perhaps a dash of corn juice. Williams said it was the property of the guests, but the weight of evidence was contrary to this statement, since the sheriff had never known any number of gentlemen at a party to empty the contents of their individual flasks into a single glass jar. So Williams was arrested and committed into the hands of the jailor on a charge of conducting a "blind pig."

As to Albright, he is known as a "mean nigger." He has been in several fracases before, and at one time it was thought that he had killed a negro woman here in Greensboro, whom he shot. He hailed from High Point, where he was at work, prior to his visit to Williams' "party."

Austin is said to have come from Siler City. Sheriff Jones inquired to know if he should ship the body there, but was advised to hold it here for burial.

Young Friend Myrick.

Both Friends and friends of Friends will be glad to learn that the number of that goodly people increases with the days, but those without the fold will perhaps read with interest that while it is not according to the tenets of the church to have infants born into the communion, they may have nativity in the home of the good pastor of the flock and there be nurtured into the strength and kindly virtues of those noble people whom we shall delight never to call by any loftier-sounding name than Friends. So it is to be announced with peculiar pleasure that another Friend was born yesterday into the home of Rev. Stephen S. and Mrs. Miriam H. Myrick.

Second Contest Tonight.

Tonight at the Gem Bowling Parlor the teams from the Cone Company and the Public Service Company will pull off their second contest. The Electricians were victorious in the first contest, which took place on last Friday night. A number of ladies have signified their intention of being present tonight to cheer for their favorites.

THIRTEEN KILLED; FIFTY ARE INJURED

Gas and Dynamite Explosions In New York Yesterday Caused Death—Number of Buildings Destroyed—Cause Unknown.

New York, Dec. 19.—Thirteen persons were killed, two of them women, and fifty were injured in a double explosion of gas and dynamite in the new electric power house of the New York Central Railroad today.

The dynamite blast picked up a northbound trolley car, lifted it in the air and sent it crashing down upon an automobile which was passing along the other side of the street. Four of the passengers were killed and every one in the car was injured. The railroad service was only temporarily interrupted. The new substation power house, where the explosion occurred, is at Fiftieth street and Lexington avenue, which is half a dozen blocks north of the Grand Central.

The explosion, which could be heard for many blocks, partly wrecked the fire engine house nearby and prevented the firemen from getting their apparatus into the street.

Monsignors La Pette and Hayes and Fathers O'Connor, McQuade, Sinnott and Brynes, of St. Patricks' Cathedral, hurried to the scene and administered the last rites of the church to the more seriously injured.

At a postoffice substation nearby the explosion slightly injured several clerks and scattered the mail over the floor. In the New York nursery and child's hospital, ceilings were partly shaken down and the windows broken but none of the 300 children there were badly hurt. The powerhouse caught fire after the explosion and the interior was practically burned out. Just what caused the double explosion may probably never be known.

Fortunately for thousands of commutters on the New York Central lines the force of the dynamite blasts was directed in an opposite direction from the railroad tracks; otherwise the several incoming trains, heavily loaded, might have been wrecked.

Officials of the railroad learned that there were many workmen in the building at the time of the explosion and that very few of these had been accounted for.

In the Bible teachers' training school on Lexington avenue, directly opposite the power house, 125 men and women who were on their way to breakfast were thrown to the floor by the blast. Many of them were injured and several of them were taken to hospitals. All the windows in the building were blown in and the ceilings fell.

The damage to the power house and other buildings has not been estimated but it was stated that it would exceed $500,000.

AT WEST MARKET TONIGHT.

Annual Christmas Entertainment by Sunday School To Be Given.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock at West Market Street Methodist church the annual Christmas entertainment will be given by the Sunday school pupils. There will be songs, recitations, etc., by the primary department; also music by the Sunday school orchestra. The children will bring gifts, which will be forwarded to the Methodist orphanage at Winston in time for distribution among the orphanage children by Christmas.

It was announced Sunday that on account of weather the entertainment would be held on Thursday evening, but the officers of the school decided to hold the entertainment tonight, Dec. 20, as originally planned. The public is cordially invited to attend. The exercises begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Settled With Sheriff.

The County Commissioners spent yesterday and an hour or more last night settling with Sheriff Jones for the 1909 taxes. It was found that more than 98 per cent. of the taxes charged to the sheriff had been collected and the majority of the unpaid taxes were against what are termed transients; that is a person residing in town at listing time gives in his poll but before the books are made out leaves for some other place and the officers have no way of reaching him.

Christmas Entertainment At Moravian Church.

The Moravian Sunday school will give their annual Christmas concert on next Friday evening at 7:30. The music has been selected from "The Prince Emmanuel." Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of Salem, will deliver the address. A cordial invitation is extended the public.

They have given all three state departments a "clean bill of health" and on the records of the state treasurer they have entered a financial statement of the state funds for the year as they found them. This shows total receipts for the fiscal year, general funds, $6,425,944.24 and disbursements $6,425,944.24. The items of receipts for general fund were: Balance December 1, 1909, $112,911.05; receipts for the year $6,300,914.32 and overdrafts for 1910 business $12,118.87. Mrs. A. B. Hawkins, wife of Dr. A. B. Hawkins, of this city, died early this morning aged 78 years. She had been in feeble health for quite a while. She was Miss Bailey, of Tallehassee, Fla. Her husband survives her. The funeral will be from the Church of the Good Shepherd Tuesday.

The secretary of state charters two new corporations. One is the Jila-Cola Co., Asheville, capital $25,000 authorized and $6,000 subscribed, by J. M. Chies, D. R. Millard and others for the making and sale of soft drinks of all kinds, compounding chemicals, fruit juices and other ingredients and maintaining places for the sale of these, wholesale and retail anywhere in the state. The other is the Metropolitan Club Co., Salisbury, capital $5,000 by S. A. Kacas and others for the social pleasures of its members.

Much of the afternoon today was devoted by the corporation commission to the demonstration of the utility of a new patent appliance for railroad cars by J. E. Latham, of Greensboro, designed to prevent all kinds of railroad accidents except head on collisions. The appliance is attached to each car of a train and the instant that a car wheel leaves the track in any way the air brakes for the entire train are put on automatically.

MISSIONARY IN THE CALABOOSE

She Is Woman of Color and Is Charged With Kidnapping Small Son of Raleigh Negro—Avers That She Was Never In Raleigh In Her Life and Gives Seemingly Straight Account of Herself.

For the first time in years, if not in the history of the institution, the calaboose housed a female missionary last night—at least she said she was a missionary and gave a seemingly straight account of her work to back up the assertion. The woman is a negro.

Yesterday afternoon Adam Avery, colored, of Raleigh, appeared before Judge Eure and swore out a warrant for Rev. Max, alias Lizzie Burnett, charging her with kidnapping his seven months old boy, Lindsay Avery. The warrant was turned over to Officer McCuiston with information as to where the woman could be found. In consequence thereof the woman was soon in the calaboose awaiting trial.

Avery states that on Nov. 2 he and his wife went to their daily work leaving their little girl with the baby. During the forenoon some negro woman came to the house and asked the girl to go to the market for her, saying that the girl's mother wanted her to bring the baby to her at the place she was employed. This is the last time the child has been seen, despite strenuous efforts made to recover it.

The Burnett woman stated last night that she had never been in Raleigh in her life. She said she had lived in Washington for years, citing a number of officials for whom she had cooked, but for a number of years she had been doing missionary work of an interdenominational character. She carries with her a book in which she writes, she says, information about each place she visits, the work done, etc. She stated last night that she came here from Durham about two weeks ago, going there from Oxford. Before she arrived at Oxford she was working in Virginia. Her story seemed to be a straight one, the evidence against her regarding the kidnapping being entirely circumstantial in nature. Avery states that his girl can identify the woman and she will be brought here from Raleigh for the preliminary hearing which will probably take place tomorrow.

Meantime the woman says she has no fears and is making heself contented in jail.

COLD KILLS JERSEY RABBITS

Quail Also Suffer For Want of Proper Food.

Toms River, N. J., Dec. 19.—Men whose work causes them to range the woods say that the snow and cold of the last 10 days have wrought more destruction with rabbit and quail than all the gunners were able to do before the snow fell. They also say that unprincipled hunters are breaking the law, which forbids hunting while snow is on the ground, and are shooting the starving quail and rabbits.

Many people who are interested in quail shooting, and others who are not, have cleaned the ground of snow in spots near where coveys of quail are known to be and daily spread grain for them.

Will and Shade Miller in the last three days picked up seven rabbits, exhausted from starvation. They took them home, put them in a warm place and fed them back to life. When the snow is gone they will turn them loose. At Cranmoor Farm, the country place of John P. Haines, the heated greenhouses, or rather a portion unused as a greenhouse, has been turned into a refuge for quail and rabbit which the men employed on the place have picked up.

Mr. J. Henry Allen, of Memphis, Tenn., and Miss Daisy D. Fowler, of Burlington, were married yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Edwin D. Fowler, 201 Forbis street, Rev. Shuford Peeler officiating.

The happy couple left soon after the ceremony for Burlington, where they will spend the holidays with relatives of Mrs. Allen, after which they will go to make their home in Memphis, Tenn.

CHARLIE JOHNS IN DANVILLE

Negro Who Landed At White Oak Several Days Ago With Stolen Wares Arrested in Danville.

The one-legged negro who was arrested in the mill section about ten days ago for breaking into a store in High Point, and who gave his name as Charlie Johns, was rounded up at Danville yesterday afternoon, having gotten away from the authorities at High Point.

Several days ago Chief Neelley wrote the police authorities of Danville a description of Johns, who arrived promptly to answer to the delineation. Much has been written about police bribery in many of our cities, but be it said that in Danville, despite the detractions of her enemies, the balance of power is still held by those who are fearless of naught but justice. Why, did not the officer who arrested Captain Johns in Danville see a vision of the merriest hearthstone of all the years since Jamestown was a wilderness, when Johns held aloft fifty shining plunks fresh from the mint, saying "For my freedom they are thine?" How merrily did they jingle—like sleighbells from the land of Kris Kringle, or tin horns, squesquaws, and rattles and the rolling drum, or the clink of the Christmas bowl mid joyous laughter of old friends back home again! "Strap your wallet," said the cop. "Your generosity doth exceed your offence, but such dreams are for the wicked, who die by their own false hand. Keep step blithely! Hep, hep!"

Johns said that he was willing to come to Greensboro without a paper of requisition, so an officer will be sent to Danville today to accompany him once more and perhaps for the last time, to the scene of his late and futile divination of egregious wealth and earthly pomp.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Clarida Seventy-Five; Colon Clarida, Grandson, Twenty-Two.

Sunday Mrs. Sarah Jane Clarida, mother of Mr. W. F. Clarida, was 75 years of age. Mr. Clarida's son, Colon, was 22. In honor of the two, who were born on the 18th of December, but 53 years apart, Mr. Clarida had prepared a bounteous dinner at his home near the city and about fifty guests were present to do honor, and justice, to the occasion.

Mr. George Crutchfield read the twenty second Psalm. Mr. Thompson made a short talk, Mr. J. F. Troxler offering the invocation. The Greensboro Male Chorus was present by special invitation and rendered several selections to the great enjoyment of all present. The members of the Chorus, through the president, presented Mrs. Clarida and her grandson with handsome Bibles.

The guests were then invited into the dining room where a sumptuous birthday dinner was spread. After the repast a number of short talks were made by the guests, the speakers expressing their pleasure at being present and extending congratulations to Mrs. Clarida.

Mrs. Clarida is in good health and is able to get around better than many persons less advanced in years. The speakers expressed the hope that she might enjoy many more birthday dinners.

Entertainment At Summer School.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, at 6:30 o'clock, there will be an entertainment given at Sumner Graded School building—Sumner township — by the Ladies' Betterment Association and the school. An educational talk will also be given. Proceeds for the benefit of the school. Public cordially invited.

Before Judge Eure.

After having nothing to do for two days Judge Eure convened Municipal court yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock with three cases on the docket. Archie Christian and Jim Shoffner were given a hearing on the charge of engaging in an affray. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each. Robert Anderson was charged with retailing, the case being continued until tomorrow. The other case was a drunk, the usual fine being imposed.

HELPFUL TALKS BY THE LAYMEN

The "Experience Meeting" Greatly Enjoyed.

Interesting Service Held Sunday Afternoon at Friends' Church—Each Denomination Will Have Speakers Here For the Anniversary Services to Be Held In January—Attendance Gratifying.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Friends' church there was held an "experience meeting" of men interested in the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Mr. O. C. Wysong presided and the opening invocation was made by Rev. S. S. Myrick, the pastor of the Friends' church.

Mr. E. P. Wharton was called on to make the first of a series of five minute talks. He quoted a statement that he had seen in "Men and Missions" to the effect that the nineteenth century made the world one neighborhood and the twentieth century should make it one brotherhood. He urged renewed efforts in behalf of the Laymen's Movement.

Then followed a half dozen or more short talks on the Movement, the speakers giving their experience in connection with their work for the Movement.

Several of these talks had a bearing on the arrangements for the anniversary meeting Jan. 12 and 13, which will mark the end of the first year's work following the great Laymen's Convention in this city last January. A question was asked as to the plan proposed for securing the visiting speakers. In reply it was stated by some of those active in the arrangements for the meeting that each denomination would be expected to bring its own men of note, conspicuous in the Movement, paying the traveling and hotel expenses of such men and such additional expenses as the circumstances might warrant.

A poll of the several churches represented was made to see how many mission study classes. West Market Street Methodist church reported three such classes, one or two churches reported two, and several reported one.

Just before the close of the meeting there were several voluntary prayers of about a minute in length in which the divine blessing was asked on the workers to the end that they might be made more aggressive and persevering.

It was an inclement afternoon, but the attendance was such as to be encouraging to the members of the special committee on arrangements for the anniversary meeting.

"JACK THE SLAPPER."

Negro, "High Toner," Arrested Yesterday on Two Warrants, Charging Assault.

The police yesterday arrested Fletcher Lindsay on two warrants, each charging him with assault. It appears that Lindsay, who is a "high toner" of color, and a veritable "Jack the Slapper", has made a practice of escorting good looking negro women home. Mattie Scales resented his forcing his company upon her Saturday night and was rewarded with a vigorous slap across the cheek. He then turned his attention to Florence Lock and she allowed him to accompany her home but on their arrival a quarrel ensued and she was given a licking. She avers that if she had not fled from home he would have given her an unmerciful beating.

Lindsay indignantly denies having done anything but what he was perfectly justified in doing, considering the circumstances. He will be given a hearing in Municipal court this morning.

Schools Close Thursday.

The closing exercises of the city schools will be held Thursday afternoon, after which the schools will close for the holidays. At the High School the literary societies will have charge of the program, the exercises to be in the nature of those arranged for North Carolina Day. The schools will begin the Spring term on Tuesday, January 3.

Jackson—DeHart.

Mr. Zebedee Jackson and Miss Mamie DeHart, of Surry county, were married last evening by Rev. E. K. McLarty, while detouring here on their way to Raleigh, for which place they left last night.

TORRICELLI'S VACUUM.

Experiment That Led to the Invention of the Barometer.

The barometer was invented by Torricelli, a pupil of Galilei, in 1643. In attempting to pump water from a very deep well near Florence he found that in spite of all his efforts the liquid would not rise higher in the pump stock than thirty-two feet. This set the young scientist to thinking, and as he could not account for the phenomenon in any other way he was not slow in attributing it to atmospheric pressure. He argued that water would rise in a vacuum only to such a height as would render the downward pressure or weight of the column of water just equal to the atmospheric pressure and, further, that should a heavier fluid be used the height of the column could be much reduced. To prove this he selected a glass tube four feet long and after sealing one end filled it with mercury and then inverted it in a basin containing a quantity of the same peculiar liquid. The column in the tube quickly fell to a height of nearly thirty inches above the mercury in the basin, leaving in the top of the tube a vacuum which is the most perfect that has ever been obtained and which is to this day called the Torricelli vacuum in honor of its discoverer. The name of the instrument means "air measure," and its fundamental principles cannot be better illustrated than by the above described experiment.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for there are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is lasting.

L. R. Tickel, farmer, Elon College, N. C., says: "For many years I was afflicted with kidney trouble, the pains in my loins being quite severe. My back ached intensely at night, was lame in the morning and bothered me greatly when I stooped or lifted. I tired easily, felt languid and nervous and had dizzy spells, during which my sight became blurred. Three or four times every night I had to get up to pass the kidney secretions and sediment was noticeable in them. I lost twenty-five pounds in weight and had about given up all hope of recovering. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply and in four or five days they relieved me. I cannot say too much in their favor."

DRAWS PRUNE STONE FROM GIRL'S LUNG

Silver Tube is Pased Through Mouth and Forceps Are Used—There Six Months.

New York World.

A prune stone which Bertha Gitow, twelve years old, carried in her left lung for nearly six months was extracted at Roosevelt Hospital yesterday. So young Miss Gitow "breathes freer," in a double sense, today. Dr. Marks S. Shaine, of No. 8 East One Hundred and Thirty-first street her physician, said she was resting comfortably in the hospital last night and will return to her home at Long Branch, N. J., in a day or two.

Miss Bertha was taken to Dr. Shaine some weeks ago. She had a bad cough and complained of severe pain on the left side of her chest. Her cough did not improve under treatment, but only after several visits to him did the girl tell the doctor she had "swallowed" a prune stone some months before.

An examination verified Dr. Shaine's suspicions. Miss Bertha had not swallowed the prune stone, it had slipped into her wind-pipe and, descending, had lodged in the left bronchial tube.

Dr. Shaine took Miss Bertha to Roosevelt Hospital. Dr. Sidney Gankauer, no 616 Madison avenue, put her under ether. Then he passed a flexible silver tube down her wind-pipe and into her left bronchial tube until the tube's lower end was very close to the prune stone. Then down the tube he passed a pair of strong but delicate forceps. After some manipulation he got the forceps around the stone, seized it and drew it, forceps and tube up together and out of Miss Bertha's mouth.

ALL THE GIRLS LOVE HIM, AND YET BOB, JR., FLEES

When Every Tea Guest Wants to Caress Him He Runs.

New York World.

Bob, Jr. got tired yesterday of the higher education, blue ribbons, culture and lady-fingers. Being a bull pup, he wanted a bone and a fight, but being also the mascot of the sophomore class at Barnard College he had to be a martyr, for it was the day of the annual undergraduate tea.

That is when all the girls look their prettiest. By the time the last drop of tea is poured everybody is supposed to be intimately acquainted with everybody else, which is fun for the girls, but tough for a dog.

In the first place Bob Jr. had to be dressed in a white fur coat. He mistook it for a cat, when his nerves began to tingle, so he bit it off and worried the pieces. The b lue bow around his neck wasn't like anything he had been brought up to wear. On top of that, all the girls wanted to introduce him to all the guests, and most of the guests wanted to pat him. That was too much. With a yelp Bob Jr. leaped through the doorway and fled to the railroad track region, where a dog's a dog and the only bow has a wow after it.

But Bob's adventure was not all. Soangetled, the Indian mascot of the senior class, almost got into a fight with two other mascots, a huge lion and a fierce dragon—made of plaster.

There were elaborate decorations in class colors, and the refreshments actually lasted until the last guest had departed.

An entertainment in the theatre consisted of recitations by Miss Elizabeth Gray, a song by Miss Lucile Weil, a dance by Miss Dorothy Cheesman and a piano solo by Miss Rosalind Case. On the receiving line were Mrs. Nicholas Murray Butler, Mrs. William T. Brewster, Mrs. Wilhelm Braun and Miss Virginia Gildersleeve. Miss Adele Duncan headed the committee on arrangements and assisting her were the Misses Naomi Harris, Helen Dana, Virginia Brittain, Bertha Yunghaus and Florence V. Vranken.

REPUBLICS IN GERMANY.

Three City States Whose Constitutions the Empire Respects.

Hamburg, Bremen and Lubeck are theoretically three republics which have for the mutual convenience of themselves and the empire come under the rule of the kaiser in all but purely local affairs. As they had joined the north German confederation, which was formed after Prussia's victory in 1866, there was nothing left for them to do but to give their allegiance to its successor, the empire.

Each is represented in the bundesrath, or federal council, as well as in the reichstag, and each retains the republican principle in its local legislation. The Hamburg senate may have fallen from its highest estate, but it still lives and legislates concurrently with the house of burgesses. The burgomaster of Hamburg remains the great man in the estimate of the Hamburg people, the inheritor of the great traditions of the Hansa. Bremen and Lubeck have constitutions in cousinship with Hamburg.

A wise empire respects the constitutions of these city states and refrains from any action hinting of the application of the steam roller in pursuit of harmony. The survivors of the Hansa have been more fortunate than some other republics of continental Europe. They have outlived several that had hopes of being left ignored in their republicanism.

Cracow was once a republic, but, being surrounded by Austrian possessions, was finally swallowed up in 1846. Since that time it has been a city of Austrian Poland.—Boston Transcript.

DROWNED THE MUSIC.

The Audience Was Angry, and Theodore Thomas Was Obstinate.

Theodore Thomas once undertook to raise a subscription fund for a series of concerts in San Francisco, but only $10,000 had been raised, and the enterprise hung fire. Then he announced that Emma Thursby would sing at each concert, and the guarantee fund promptly went up to $50,000.

Thomas had a rule against encores for soloists. They were allowed to appear and bow in recognition of applause, but that was all. The San Franciscans held that as it was Miss Thursby's engagement which was responsible for the raising of the fund they were entitled to encore her if they chose. Thomas, however, insisted stubbornly on his rule.

On the last night a determined effort was made to encore her. She appeared again and again, bowing her thanks, and each time the applause increased instead of diminishing. At last the audience began to shout its demands instead of merely applauding, and Miss Thursby turned to Thomas and said, "What shall I do?"

"Keep on bowing if you have to bow all night," snapped Thomas grimly.

And she went out and bowed again. This time Thomas directed the orchestra to go ahead with the final number. The audience, thoroughly indignant, shouted down the music, but Thomas was inflexible. The orchestra went on playing, utterly unheard, in a pandemonium of shouted protests. And it was probably the only time that a Thomas number fell on deaf ears.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Venetian Fashion.

Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today. "Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Boulting in "Woman In Italy," "ladies went though the mud and filth on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became heightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A curiosity in banquets is mentioned by the same writer. It was a wedding feast at Milan and consisted of fifteen courses, "each being introduced by living specimens of the animals that composed it."

Guilford is a large county, but it can't spare a slice of territory to every aspiring town that wants a court house. It is said now that Stokesdale aspires to be a county seat. It will be Gibsonville next and after Gibsonville Pleasant Garden. And we suppose that Brown Summit will also soon get to cherishing such ambitions.

James Smith, Jr., comes into the open as a candidate for United States Senator in New Jersey—James Smith, Jr., of "sugar tariff" fame. Thornton, protectionist, has been elected Senator from Louisiana. McLean of Washington, the most distinguished "seasonal" Democrat in the country, is a candidate for Senator in Ohio. Subterraneous efforts are proceeding to elect to the Senate in New York a Democrat of tender disposition toward vested interests, and William A. Clark of Montana, fully as willing if not so able as Aldrich to extend aid to trusts and monopolies in danger from legislation designed to benefit the people, is slated for Senator.—Columbia State.

It's going to be quite an undertaking to keep the protection Democrats from capturing the several vacancies soon to occur in the Senate. A Woodrow Wilson is needed in every state where there is a Senator to be elected, in order that the near-Democrats and the former Democrats who have become near-Republicans may be exposed. If the Democrats in the Senate are going to hold up the hands of the high protectionist Republicans, there is little good in sending them there. Surely the name is not the only difference between "Democrat" and "Republican."

The Atlanta Journal says there is great dissatisfaction in Georgia over the railroad rule forcing travelers who hold mileage books to exchange mileage for tickets before boarding trains. Similar dissatisfaction no doubt exists in every State where the rule prevails. Human nature is said to be pretty much the same the world over and it is human nature to utter a protest against an unreasonable and inexcusable exaction. The Journal quotes a prominent merchant as saying:

The rule is an absolute injustice to the people who use these mileage books.

They are used largely by traveling men and others who buy them, not only because they are a little cheaper, but primarily as time-savers.

The man who is constantly on the road in any line of business finds, as a rule, that he is pressed for time at almost every place he goes. If he is allowed to purchase a mileage book and have his fare pulled on the train by the conductor, it means that he can talk business until he hears the whistle blow.

On the other hand, if he knows that he must take a chance of having to wait several minutes at the station before he gets in line to have his mileage exchanged, it means that he must take at least 15 minutes off the time he would otherwise spend in the transaction of the business.

To save my life, I can see no earthly reason why the railroads object to having this mileage pulled on the train by the conductor, unless it be that the companies wish to discourage the sale of them.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer says:

The Greensboro ladies have taken a distinct step in advance in the organization of an "After School Club," the object of which is to bring teachers and mothers in closer touch. One of the most difficult problems connected with teaching is based upon the fact that although the teacher is charged with the training of the child she comes in contact with him only five or six hours out of the 24. The remaining time he is entirely beyond her ken and it is very often in the way he has of spending exactly this time that the best key to his character is found. Now, it is in the nature of the case impossible for the teacher to make herself the hourly companion of thirty or forty children living in separate sections of a community, and it is just at this point that an organization such as has just been completed at Greensboro finds its opportunity. The mothers, as a rule, try at least to have a general idea of what their boys and girls are doing during their out-of-school hours and thus have a line on exactly the information that the teacher needs but cannot obtain directly.

Another excellent aspect of this club is its likelihood of getting indifferent parents aroused to the importance of intelligent co-operation with the teacher. The pupils scarcely ever form more than half of the teacher's problem; the parents present quite as complex equations to be solved. Coming together in a conference arranged especially for the purpose of discussing the children cannot but bring out all the interest the mothers have waiting to be aroused. The Greensboro organization is affiliated with a national movement which has the hearty endorsement of the United States bureau of education. We hope the idea may prove infectious.

Thus Greensboro is a leader in yet another new move. The only danger is that so many undertakings will be planned that some of them will not be carried out. It is said that only in hours of gloom and bitter toil can be fulfilled "tasks in hours of insight willed." It is important that execution follow planning, otherwise the planning had better not have been done. So we hope that extraordinary efforts will be made to make the After School Club a serviceable organization. Being a leader in new enterprises carries weighty responsibilities.

PIANOFORTE RECITAL.

Enjoyable Program by Miss Hunt's Pupills Saturday Afternoon.

The annual fall recital of Miss Hunt's music class was given Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in her studio in the Southern Life and Trust Co. building. The usual decorations of green and white were supplemented by holly and mistletoe. The soft light from the many candles, added much to the beauty of the room.

The interest and enthusiasm of teacher and pupils were shown by the forethought displayed in the arrangement of and carrying out of the smallest detail. This same interest and finish characterized the enjoyable program which ranged from primary numbers to the more advanced compositions of MacDowell, Chopin, Mendelssohn & Bach.

An enjoyable addition to the pupils program were the numbers rendered by Mrs. Foushee and Miss Woodall.

After the recital punch was served by Misses Mabel Lee and Gladys Sutton.

WHY BUY ANY RED CROSS SEALS

Samuel Hopkins Adams Makes Strong Plea for Holiday Stickers.

By Samuel Hopkins Adams.

Suppose, in your newspaper, you were to see this head-line heavy-typed across the middle of the page.

DEAD—200,000 AMERICANS!!

A Million More in Deperate Peril!

It would startle you, wouldn't it? Undoubtedly. But the sensational expression of the fact, not the fact itself, would administer the jolt to your faculties. For the fact is constantly before us all, and startles nobody. Two hundred thousand Americans died last year of consumption. One million more are now beset by the same peril. These, in turn, are infecting or will infect their hundreds of thousands of others. All needless: all preventable: all a sheer and terrible waste of life.

Possibly you yourself will be one of the hundreds of thousands stricken. There is at least one chance in nine of it. Probably someone near and dear to you will be a victim. There is more than an even chance of that.

What are you going to do about it?

What can you do about it?

Buy a Red Cross Seal.

Sounds absurd, doesn't it? In the face of the most potent scourge of the human race, devastation more sweeping than that of war or earthquake, you are invited to do your part with a penny stamp. Well, a stamp isn't much in itself, but it may typify mighty forces. It was a stamp which, typifying tyranny, lashed this country into the struggle for nationality. And now these stamps typify the struggle against the nation's mightiest foe of today. Every one of these little squares means a cent for the campaign. Sixty million of them have already been issued and distributed over the length and breadth of the country. You can get them from your church, from your local anti-tuberculosis organization, from the Y. M. C. A.; or, failing these, write to the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, at 105 East 22d street, New York City.

Fifty million seals means $500,000. What can $500,000 do toward saving a million consumptives? Not much, it is true. But it can do miracles toward preventing the further spread of the disease through eighty million Americans. Every seal means a warning. Every warning may mean a life saved. Education and education only, persistent, unremittent letting in of the light,—that and that alone will wipe out the Great White Plague.

So, whether you buy one of the gay little red and green seals to put on the back of an envelope, or ten thousand wherewith to paper a room, you will be doing your part in the great campaign. A million for tuberculosis is its battle cry, and the red cross flag on the seal, its banner. It is the war of one and all upon a common enemy. Get into the fight, though it be only a cent's worth.

MR. ALFRED KING DEAD.

Succumbed to Paralysis Early Sunday Morning—Funeral Yesterday.

Mr. Alfred King died at St. Leo's Hospital Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, following a stroke of paralysis sustained on Friday morning. He was taken to the hospital in the afternoon where a second stroke was sustained Saturday morning. He did not regain consciousness after the second stroke. The remains were taken to the home of his brother, Mr. T. W. King, 410 East Lee street.

Mr. King was born November 10, 1830, being a little more than 80 years of age. He served throughout the Civil War, as a member of Company E, Second N. C. Regiment. He is survived by a brother, Mr. T. W. King, a sister, Mrs. Mary Curtis, of this city; three sons, Messrs. J. D. King, Winston; F. M. King, Reidsville and R. H. King, of Lake City, S. C.

The funeral was held from Lee's Chapel, of which the deceased had for years been a consistent member, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Mr. Goode, pastor of the deceased, the interment following in the church cemetery.

Messrs. J. D. and F. M. King were here for the funeral.

They are here now—a rush express order got them here just in time— all those sizes we didn't have for you last week in men's, women's and children's holiday slippers. Get the size you want now while we have them. Ladies' $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, men's $1.25 and $1.50, children's 85c. and $1.00. Thacker & Brockmann.

Saturday we received fresh shipments of Bostonian shoes for men, "Old Tyme Comfort" shoes for women, and that delayed shipment of girls and small children's Portsmouth shoes. Everything you can call for in footwear here now and we are selling them "to beat the band." If you have not already done so it will pay you to get in the habit of buying shoes at this store. ### Jenny Lind as a Child.

Jenny Lind as a child of three years was the lark of her parents' house. As a girl of nine she attracted the attention of all lovers of music and entered the Stockholm conservatory as a pupil. Her continuous studies at so tender an age caused the sudden loss of her voice, and for four full years she pursued her theoretical and technical studies, when suddenly the full sweet sounds came back, to the delight, as every one knows, of thousands for many years.

Mark Twain's Definitions.

It is told of Mark Twain that during a conversation with a young lady of his acquaintance he had occasion to mention the word drydock.

"What is a drydock, Mr. Clemens?" she asked.

"A thirsty physician," replied the humorist.

An Old Garret on a Stormy Day.

I know no nobler forage ground for a romantic, venturesome, mischievous boy than the garret of an old family mansion on a day of storm. It is a perfect field of chivalry. The heavy rafters and dashing rain, the piles of spare mattresses to carouse upon, the big trunks to hide in, the old white coats and hats hanging in obscure corners like ghosts, are great! And it is so far away from the old lady who keeps rule in the nursery that there is no possible risk of a scolding for twisting off the fringe of a rug. There is no baby in the garret to wake up. There is no "company" in the garret to be disturbed by the noise. There is no crochety old uncle or grandma, with their everlasting "Boys, boys!" and then a look of horror.—Donald G. Mitchell.

WILLING TO LEND.

Only Her Husband, the Mean Thing, Had Pinched Her Wad!

Men have something to learn from women in the art of warding off "touchers" for coin. Women respond to such requests once in about every thousand cases, but they are scientific in their refusals. A Cleveland woman with a reputation as a borrower turned up at the home of one of her friends the other morning with a much done over story about a persistent and threatening dressmaker and the usual request for the loan—"pay it back tomorrow, certain"—of $5.

"Why, my dear, certainly," was the pleasant response to her carefully rehearsed little yarn, "you poor thing, you! Just wait till I run upstairs and get my purse."

She ran upstairs. The male head of the house happened to be in the room where she kept her purse. He saw her dig the purse out of a chiffonier drawer and deliberately remove a wad of bills from it, leaving about 37 cents in silver and copper in the change receptacle. The man was mean enough to lean over the stair railing when his wife went downstairs to the parlor with her flattened pocketbook in her hand.

"Oh, I'm so sorry, dearie," he heard her say, "but I really thought I had the money. I find, though, that Frank, as usual, has been at my purse—I heard him say something about settling a plumber's bill last night when I was half asleep—and the mean thing has left me only enough for car fare. Too bad! Of course, you know, if I had it"—and so on.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Faithful Woman.

I tell you that women, as a rule, are more faithful than men—ten times more faithful. I never saw a man pursue his wife into the very ditch and dust of degradation and take her in his arms. I never saw a man stand at the shore where she was wrecked, waiting for the waves to bring back her corpse to his arms, but I have seen a woman with her white arms lift a man from the mire of degradation and hold him to her bosom as if he were an angel.—Ingersoll.

His Way of Doing.

"Could the cashier of that company explain the muddle in the books?"

"He said he would clear it all up."

"Did he?"

"No, he didn't clear it up. He cleared out."—Baltimore American.

CURIOUS BLUNDERS.

The Anachronisms That Crowded a Once Famous Poem.

The medieval romances are full of blunders, making contemporaries of men who were separated sometimes by hundreds, sometimes by thousands, of years, but as historical criticism had not then a being and the general information of the age was not superior in any particular to that of the novelist their plans do not amount to much from a literary point of view. Such an instance is the case of Ariosto, who might be supposed to know something at least of the truth of history, but whose once famous poem, "Orlando Furioso," is a tissue of historical absurdities from beginning to end.

In this poem Charlemagne and his peers are joined by Edward I. of England, Richard, earl of Warwick; Clarence and the Dukes of York and Gloucester; cannon are employed hundreds of years before the time of Monk Schwartz, and the Moors are represented as established in Spain in spite of the historic fact that 300 years elapsed after the death of Charlemagne before they crossed from Africa. In one place Prester John, who lived 400 years after Charlemagne, and Constantine the Great, who died five centuries before him, are introduced and hold familiar converse with the great Charles, while in another Saladin and Edward the Confessor are joined by the Black Prince.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

The Exception.

"Doesn't your husband like cats, Mrs. Binks?"

"No, indeed. He hates all cats except a little kitty they have at his club."—Baltimore American.

A man without patience is a lamp without oil.—De Musset.

Get the Genuine Always.

A substitute is a dangerous make shift especially in medicine. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds quickly and is in a yellow package. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

MISS SCHEIDER SUCCEEDS

New York Girl Who Was Befriended by Sembrich.

Musical World.

Miss May Scheider is a New York girl who has just been selected for one of the most important places in opera in Germany. She will after the present season be the first colorature soprano at the Grand Ducal Opera House in Karlsruhe. This is one of the foremost opera houses in Germany. Berlin, Dresden, Munich and Karlsruhe count as the first four in the country. The engagement is a great honor to this American girl.

It was under the direction of Felix Mottl that the theatre gained its greatest importance from a musical point of view. As an evidence of the class of artitsts who appear there it is only necessary to understand that Herman Jadloweker came from that theatre to the Metropolitan Opera House.

Miss Scheider, who had sung as an amateur, never had an idea of making professional use of her gifts until after the death of her father. Then she sang for Mme. Sembrich, who immediately gave her a letter to her old teacher, Giovanni Lamperti, in Berlin. Thus it happened that Miss Scheider was one of the very last pupils of the great Italian teacher, who died a year ago.

She was engaged in Zurich for three years. There she acquired a repertoire of 25 operas, and she will this season add "Nedda" and "Mimi" to it. Next autumn she begins her three years' engagement at Karlsruhe.

A WOMAN CAPTAIN.

Miss Tompkins, of Richmond, Who Directed Care of Wounded.

Richmond News-Leader.

Capt. Sallie E. Tompkins, the only woman commissioned by the Confederate States of America and sole survivor of the physicians and nurses who ministered to the dying and wounded during the Civil War, Wednesday stood on the site garbed in her old nurses' outfit and unveiled the tablet placed there by the Confederate Memorial Society.

Miss Tompkins is now 77 years old. At the opening of the war she was 28, possessor of ample means and a passion for nursing, besides being devoted to the cause of her State. Judge John Robertson moved with his family to the country and turned over his commodious home to her use, thus founding the hospital.

The matter of Miss Tompkins' commission is of interest. Several private hospitals had sprung up here, and, realizing the importance of having the ill and wounded immediately under Government control, these were ordered closed. An investigation of the Robertson Hospital followed, with the result of its establishment as the Government Hospital, while to avert an infringement of orders the Secretary of War drew up a commission for its head, Miss Tompkins, and she was made a captain of cavalry, the commission being duly signed by Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

The precious paper was mislaid some years ago by Miss Tompkins, but recently was found in an old trunk. It now hangs framed on the walls of the Confederate Museum here and is a treasured relic.

The salary attached to the office was turned over by Miss Tompkins to the use of the hospital.

SHOE MAKING FACTS

No. 2

CRADDOCK Vamps, Stays, Tops

We've told the story of Craddock soles and counters and heels — how honestly they are made of the very best leather that money can buy. You can understand now why some shoes break down after a few weeks wear and one or two unfortunate wettings, and why Craddock Shoes are called Long Wear Shoes.

Craddock vamps and tops and linings have their share of the bumps and strains to stand and that they do stand them is because of our care in the selection of the skins and the careful cutting of each shoe part from the best part of the hide adapted to its use.

Craddock Vamps (7) are cut from the "heart" of the hide, the toughest part of the whole skin. The tops (8) are cut from the next toughest parts—the soft, spongy flank leather is never used.

The back stays of a shoe (9) are small parts but very important. They take an enormous amount of strain. Craddock stays are selected from small pieces of the very choicest part of the skin.

You wouldn't think that any shoemaker would scrimp on linings—but they do. It only takes a little piece—it ought to be of the best, but if a fraction of a cent is saved on every pair it will amount to hundreds of dollars in a year. Craddock linings are of the strongest duck—even away down inside where you can't see. There is no seam in the toe to raise the mischief with your feet.

Go to the Craddock dealer in your town and talk shop with him. When you once know the Craddock shoe—you will have found your money's worth of wear—style—comfort.

SHARPE—COLERIDER

Greensboro Young Man Wedded In Washington Last Week.

Saturday's Washington Post contains the following account of the marriage of Mr. Terry Sharpe and Miss Mary Colerider, of Washington:

"The marriage of Miss Mary Gertrude Colerider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Colerider, and Mr. Terry Donnell Sharpe took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride, 115 Maryland avenue northeast. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John Weidley, of the Church of the Reformation. Mrs. Weidley played the wedding music, which opened with the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin."

"The bride stood beneath a wedding bell in a bay-window, which was banked with flowers. An arch of bamboo vines, mistletoe, and Southern moss adorned the palor.

"The bride wore a gown of cream satin messaline trimmed in pearls and baby Irish lace, with a finish of silk fringe. A bandeau of roses held her tulle veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and narcissus She wore also the bridegroom's gift, a necklace of diamonds and pearls.

"The bridal attendants were Miss Nettie Pearl Colerider, sister of the bride, who wore light blue chiffon over messaline, with a bandeau of blue satin ribbon, and carried a bouquet of Golden Gate roses; Miss Lucy Foreman, of Morgantown, W. Va., cousin of the bride, wearing salmon pink satin messaline, with a yoke of silver lace and pearl trimming, with satin roses to match the gown in her hair and carrying Golden Gate Roses; Miss Maucealeene Foreman, Mr. Samuel W. Colerider, brother of the bride; Dr. Flavius O. Plunkett, of Richmond, Va., and Mr. William Henry Sharpe, of Greensboro, N. C., Dr. Plunkett attending the groom as best man.

"An informal reception, during which supper was served in the dining room, followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe left for a wedding trip to Philadelphia, New York, and Niagara Falls. Mrs. Sharpe traveled in a suit of pastel blue chiffon broadcloth, with a black silk turban trimmed with gold braid. They will be at home after January 1 at Greensboro, N. C.

"Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Alexandria Foreman and daughters, Misses Nyna Lucy and Maucealeene, of Morgantown, W. Va., and Miss Mary Payne, of Alexandria, Va."

Mr. Sharpe is a popular young man of this city, a graduate of the State University and a valued employe of the Southern Real Estate Company. He is a son of Mr. J. H. Sharpe, a prominent farmer of this county. His bride was a student for some time at the Presbyterian Seminary at Red Springs and is an attractive and talented young woman.

Aldermen Meet Tonight.

The Board of Aldermen will meet in adjourned session this evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of transacting any business that may need attention before the holidays. The regular meeting time is Friday evening, but people will be so busy that there will hardly be a session at that time. The matter of greatest general interest will be the annual Christmas gift for the firemen and police. For years it has been the custom of the city to give to each member of these departments $5 as a token of appreciation of his services during the year.

Entertainment At Battle Ground School.

There will be a Christmas entertainment at the Battle Ground School house Friday evening, participated in by the pupils.
